

Webinar Wednesday

MidAtlantic AIDS Education and Training Center
University of Pittsburgh • Graduate School of Public Health • Department of Infectious Diseases and Microbiology

Save the Date

Certificates of Attendance Provided

Time: noon-1pm ET

Young MSM of Color: Providing Social Services for HIV Prevention

October 26, 2016

Program Overview

The purpose of this webinar is to enable participants to have increased knowledge of strategies and methods that have been useful in engaging LGBT youth of color in HIV prevention.

Upon completion, participants will be able to:

- Review epidemiology related to minority MSM community and risk of HIV infection
- Identify culturally competent ways to interact with clients from the young minority MSM community in practice
- Discuss methods of providing social services in clinical and non-clinical settings as a methods of HIV prevention

Intended Audience

Physicians, Physician Assistants, Nurses, Nurse Practitioners, Social Workers, Case Managers, and other members of the HIV treatment team

Disclosure

Faculty/Planners disclose no conflict of interest relative to this educational activity.

PSNA: The MidAtlantic AIDS Education and Training Center is an approved provider of continuing nursing education by the Pennsylvania State Nurses Association, an accredited approver by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation.

This activity qualifies for 1.0 contact hours.

Featured Speaker

Jess Netto

Director of Youth Programs
Community Human Services - Project Silk

Jess Netto, MSW, LSW, is currently the Director of Youth Programs at Community Human Services, including the Project Silk drop-in center. Project Silk is an HIV prevention and care initiative targeted toward black and latino young men who have sex with men (YMSM) and young transgender people (YTG) 13-29 years old, and their varied sexual partners, in the Pittsburgh area. Project Silk provides a safe, healthy, supportive community environment for LGBT youth of color to grow, celebrate, and express themselves.

Registration

These webcasts are free and open to the general public.

Visit the MidAtlantic AIDS Education and Training Center website to register.

www.maaetc.org

