PROGRAM OVERVIEW

This two-day conference will bring together regional experts in HIV and related fields in order to enable HIV care teams to recognize manifestations of HIV and other co-morbidities in a diverse population. The aim is to pursue efforts that support a collaborative healthcare approach, so important in today's complicated health care environment. Experts will talk about Public Benefits, Hepatitis C and the Opioid Epidemic, Cultural Competency, PrEP, Trauma Informed Care, and much more. Professionals working in these areas will be able to increase their knowledge of new updates in an interprofessional environment.

Upon completion of this program, participants will be able to:

- Recognize manifestations of HIV and other co-morbidities in a diverse population
- Identify new updates across several topic areas in an interprofessional environment
